DEAL OR NO DEAL

LOTS OF EXCITEMENT NOW THAT GROUPON'S GONE PUBLIC—BUT WILL IT LAST?

Chicago Tribune

Groupon is all about offering discounts to its customers. But on Friday, investors were eager to pay a premium for a piece of the company's first public stock offering.

Shares of the Chicago-based daily deals company debuted on the Nasdaq stock market with a 31 percent gain, closing at $26.11 after trading as high as $31.14. At the end of the day, the company had a market value of $17.4 billion, according to Bloomberg.

Even at the initial price offering of $20 a share, Groupon's valuation of $12.76 billion put it in rarefied air even for the highflying Internet sector. Only Google's IPO in 2004, which gave the company a value of $23.1 billion, ranks higher.

Groupon sold 35 million shares, raising $700 million in an offering that was seen as a milestone not just for the young company but also for its hometown and the industry it is credited with inventing. The 3-year-old firm started as a business selling a deal a day for local merchants such as restaurants and spas, and has grown into a global operation with more than 10,000 employees and 143 million subscribers on its email list.

The company decided late Thursday to sell more shares, adding 5 million to a planned offering of 30 million shares. Still, this represented just 5.5 percent of the company, an amount that is unusually small for an IPO and which may have exaggerated demand for the stock, leading to the pop in share price Friday.

"Without question, going public is a watershed moment for a company, for an industry and for a city where it doesn't happen very often," said Raman Chadha, a professor and executive director of the Coleman Entrepreneurship Center at DePaul University. "There is a chest-thumping factor that is inherent to this."

Of course, early excitement about a stock hasn't always lasted, especially in the volatile technology sector. Online radio service Pandora Media, which went public in June, is trading below its IPO price. And after the initial hype surrounding Groupon's offering dies down, the company still faces questions about whether it can become profitable and keep ahead of its rivals, a group that includes hundreds of copycats as well as industry titans such as Google and Amazon.

Winner's circle

Members of Chicago's tech community are watching to gauge the effect of newly created wealth from Groupon's IPO, hoping the windfall results in more startup activity and the development of homegrown talent. Here's a look at how the company's big fish fared Friday. TRIBUNE

Gosling vs. Diggs: The fight to be me

Stephen Markley

» redeye@tribune.com

I recently sold the movie rights to my memoir, "Publish This Book," which basically means two things: 1) I don't have to eat cans of that weird generic soup from Aldi that always seem to have minor deformities in the carrots anymore; and 2) It is now possible that someone will make a movie of my life and thus hire an actor to play me.

This is disturbing on quite a number of levels. Do I want someone better-looking than me, thereby causing people to be extremely disappointed when they meet the real me? What if he's less attractive but is better at playing me than I actually am at being me? What about a black guy?

I'd like to offer some suggestions for who should play the lead role if the film version actually goes into production.

» Ryan Gosling. He's kind of the "it" actor right now, and I very much enjoyed watching him stomp a guy's face apart in "Drive." He's got that kind of simmering cool Steve McQueen quality that I would very much like to project if I were not so busy leaving my luggage in trunks of cabs and chasing after them in the streets of New York at 4 a.m.

» Andy from "Weeds." I don't know the guy's name, but Andy from the Showtime show "Weeds" looks weirdly, eerily like me, and people point it out all the time. In fact, the first time I ever watched "Weeds" I was stoned (naturally), and watching that guy talk, move around and interact with the world really started to freak me out the way you'd get freaked out if your doppelganger chased you down a dark alley with a butcher knife.

» Nicolas Cage. And I don't mean Oscar-nominated Nic Cage. I mean lunatic, bat-feces crazy Nic Cage from movies like "The Wicker Man" and "Season of the Witch."

» Taye Diggs. I'll admit it: I've always wanted to look like Taye Diggs. That guy is as handsome as a penguin in a tuxedo. If I ever become really wealthy, I'll probably undergo Michael Jackson-like amounts of plastic surgery to look like a burn-victim version of Taye Diggs.

» John Travolta. This would only work if my roommates, who were central characters in the book -- James, Elliott, Liam and Erik -- were played by Tim Allen, Martin Lawrence, William H. Macy and, let's say, Ted Danson. Instead of a (wildly smart, entertaining) book about the travails of a young writer, they could set it as a motorcycle road trip movie. I'd probably want to see it called "Wild Hogs 2: Publish These Hogs!"

Ultimately, my main concern would be that the film adaptation be faithful to the book. Like 16th century French writer Michel de Montaigne said, "I write to keep from going mad from the contradictions I find among mankind ... Like how Ryan Gosling can look so studly yet simultaneously intelligent and approachable. Totes dug him in "The Ides of March."

Teen charged in cop's death

Chicago Tribune

The 15-year-old grandson of an off-duty female police officer killed her after the boy had skipped school and the victim caught him sleeping in the basement, prosecutors said.

Keshawn Perkins, who had been adopted by his grandmother Hester Scott and lived with the officer at her home on the 8800 block of South Wallace Street, was charged as an adult in her killing on Friday, prosecutors said in court Sunday.

Perkins fell asleep watching TV in the basement of Scott's home and was roused from his sleep by Scott yelling at him for playing hooky from school, officials said.

When Perkins awoke, he grabbed a lamp and used it to repeatedly hit her on the head and also stabbed her several times with a kitchen knife, prosecutors said.

In court, Perkins was ordered held without bail and did not speak. While charged as an adult, Perkins was wearing gray juvenile corrections facility pants and a blue shirt.

He is a ninth-grade student at Gwen-dolyn Brooks College Prep, 250 E. 111th St. He has no criminal record, prosecutors said.

Web is watching city traffic jams

Chicago Tribune

The Chicago Department of Transportation is building a new website that offers an array of traffic information on 300 miles of arterial streets city-wide.

A beta test version of the Chicago Traffic Tracker map is at chicagotraffictacker.com.

The tracker, which allows users to customize a search for specific intersections, displays real-time congestion and travel speed data on the principal arterial streets in Chicago neighborhoods, from light (traffic moving over 20 mph) to heavy (traffic below 10

HOW DOES IT WORK?

The tollway uses data culled from I-PASS toll-collection transponders to gauge travel times, while the Illinois Department of Transportation relies on loops buried in pavement and roadside monitors to measure traffic flow. CDOT will try a different strategy, using real-time CTA bus data, which is based on GPS tracking mph), using color codes ranging from shades of green to yellow and red. Speed is estimated in half-mile segments for each direction of travel, officials said. The speed limit is 30 mph on most of the arterials.

A drop-down list allows users to pick an arterial and a major cross-street; the map refreshes to show conditions at that location and the image can be zoomed in or zoomed out. Users also can select a landmark, including City Hall, O'Hare, Midway and Wrigley Field, to get a traffic snapshot.

"We just put the Traffic Tracker up there without fanfare and to see who noticed it," Chicago Transportation Commissioner Gabe Klein said Friday. "We are continuing to build it."

TV icon Andy Rooney dies

Andy Rooney, who delivered more than 1,000 commentaries on "60 Minutes," died Friday night at the age of 92. Rooney had retired from the CBS show only weeks earlier. CBSNEWSFILE PHOTO

5 NEW YORK Andy Rooney, the curmudgeonly commentator who pondered everything from shoelaces to the existence of God on CBS's "60 Minutes" news show for more than 30 years, died Friday night at the age of 92, CBS said.

Rooney, a four-time Emmy winner, died one month after he had signed off from "60 Minutes" in October, concluding a 33-year run. A statement on CBS News' website said he died in a New York hospital of complications following minor surgery.

Rooney was a fixture on Sunday night TV, closing out the "60 Minutes" broadcast with a short rant in his "A Few Minutes With Andy Rooney" segment. Sitting in his cluttered office at a desk he made himself, Rooney delivered more than 1,000 such essays, holding hold forth on a range of topics of varying degrees of relevance.

Adjectives like crusty, cranky and crabby frequently were attached to Rooney as he took critical looks at topics such as breakfast cereals or salad dressing, often with the overriding sentiment that things just weren't as good as they used to be.

But, peering out from under his bushy white eyebrows, Rooney also analyzed presidents, critiqued the Iraq war and considered North Korea's nuclear threat. His commentaries won three Emmy Awards.

"Underneath that gruff exterior, was a prickly interior ... and deeper down was a sweet and gentle man, a patriot with a love of all things American, like good bourbon and a delicious hatred for prejudice and hypocrisy," "60 Minutes" colleague Morley Safer said in a statement.

Rooney was a TV writer and producer earlier in his career and preferred to think of himself as a writer who appeared on TV. He joined CBS in 1949 as a writer for the popular "Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts" show and later worked on "The Garry Moore Show."

Rooney joined "60 Minutes" during its first season in 1968, and 10 years later his commentaries became a regular feature.

What will the latest Bears-Eagles smackdown cook up for fans?

RedEye

It's not just you—the Bears and Philadelphia really have played each other an awful lot despite being in different divisions. They've crossed paths in the regular season the past four seasons, and each game has been decided by five points or fewer. Sounds like a perfect recipe for a rivalry. As the Bears (4-3) and Eagles (3-4) prepare to bump heads again Monday, here's what their most recent meetings have brought to the table.

Bears at Philadelphia
7:30 p.m. Monday, ESPN, WCIU

NOV. 28, 2010
BEARS 31,
EAGLES 26

Key ingredient: Validation

The Bears had their share of doubters leading up to this game despite leading the NFC North at the time. Holding Michael Vick, who had been shredding defenses to that point, in check helped launch the Bears to an appearance in the NFC championship game.

WEEK 9

NY JETS	27	DALLAS	23	HOUSTON	30	ATLANTA	31	MIAMI	31	NEW ORLEANS	27	SAN FRANCISCO	19	DENVER	38
BUFFALO	11	SEATTLE	13	CLEVELAND	12	INDIANAPOLIS	7	KANSAS CITY	3	TAMPA BAY	16	WASHINGTON	11	OAKLAND	24

The turf is churned up as Bears tight end Greg Olsen is buried by the Eagles defense.

NOV. 22, 2009 EAGLES 24, BEARS 20

Key ingredient: Twists and turns

This contest shifted in the Eagles' favor when they blocked a Robbie Gould field goal attempt early in the fourth quarter with the Bears up 20-17. Chicago native and Philly QB Donovan McNabb then led the winning drive as the Eagles overcame four turnovers.

SEPT. 28, 2008 BEARS 24, EAGLES 20

Key ingredient: Goal-line heroics

The Bears stonewalled the Eagles three times from the 1-yard line, the final time on fourth down, late in the fourth quarter. "It was one of the best fourth-down finishes I've ever been a part of," Bears line-backer Lance Briggs said.

OCT. 21, 2007 BEARS 19, EAGLES 16

Key ingredient: Miracle comeback

This was the famous game when Bears quarterback Brian Griese said he called his own plays on a 97-yard touchdown drive in the closing seconds. Bears coaches later took exception to Griese saying he got no help, but the offense had done next to nothing to that point. Coincidence?

FOUR SCORE

Every week before the Bears game, RedEye's sports crew gets to the point. Here's what they predict for Monday's game at Philadelphia.

Green Bay is still the big cheese

THE GOOD, THE BAD
AND THE UGLY THIS WEEK IN THE NFL

Instant Replay

» redeyesports.tribune.com

Eight down, eight to go.

Green Bay is halfway to going undefeated, and the way the Packers are playing, it'd be hard to bet against them.

Thanks to their 45-38 win over San Diego on Sunday, the Packers have scored at least 24 points in eight straight games for the first time in franchise history. (Hear that, Brett Favre?)

And this was a road game against a team with a potent offense. Though in the grand scheme of things, it might be better for the Bears if Green Bay goes undefeated—until their clash in Week 15, that is. If the Packers are 14-0 entering that game, then disinterest on Green Bay's part might be the Bears' best hope.

OH, YES!

San Francisco is wearing teams down with running back Frank Gore, who topped 100 yards rushing for the fifth straight game Sunday—a franchise record. At 7-1, we're not sure what's scarier about the 49ers: their record or coach Jim Harbaugh's handshakes.

OH, NO!

With its win over Kansas City on Sunday, Miami (1-7) might have played its way out of the Andrew Luck sweepstakes. Indianapolis (0-9) definitely has the "upper hand" now. Oh, how those franchises have fallen.

UH-OH

Get ready for more Tim Tebow I-told-you-sos. The much-maligned Denver quarterback threw for two scores and ran for 117 yards in the Broncos' victory. Poor Kyle Orton.

1	When the Bears play Philadelphia, I think ...	... at least it's always sunny there.	... what if someone put a cheese steak on a deep dish pizza?	... Chicago's Italian beef sandwiches are better than Philly cheesesteaks.	... hide your dogs, hide your batteries.	... "In west Philadelphia/ born and raised/ on the playground is where I spent most of my days."
2	If they're not the "dream team" anymore, what should the Eagles be called?	Scream team? Redeem team? Bavarian cream team? As long as it rhymes ...	The Dream Killers? Shattered Dreams? Speaking of, remember Goldust?	The "Delusions of Grandeur" Squad.	I think "overrated" pretty much covers it.	Philadelphia Cream (cheese) Team.
3	Patrick Kane is on such a roll ...	... even Andy Rooney can't find fault with him. R.I.P., Rooney!	... that he's not even skating? Man, When do the playoffs start?	... they're gonna name a new drink after him: the Hurri-Kaner.	... he should be nicknamed "Pat o' Butter." (rimshot)	Coach Q is going to let him pull his own bologna.
4	Why did Ronnie Brewer climb the Willis Tower on Sunday?	To get to the other side.	Because that's how NBA players kill time, those weird, tall human beings.	They paid him to switch out the old Sears Tower logo on the roof. He needed the $$$.	He heard the secret to ending the lockout was on the 108th floor.	Joakim Noah told him to get high.
5	Who is Geoffrey Mutai?	Fastest SOB in NYC.	Is he related to the Great Muta? Yikes, lots of wrestling references this week. # I LOVE YOU ANYWAY ...

They can't stand each other's favorite team, but for engaged fans, that's OK

Theirs is a story of love, hockey and the thin line in between.

Michael Cappozzo is a die-hard Blackhawks fan from Chicago. He slapped on his first pair of skates when he was 3, and even now, at 34, there are few things he cherishes more than the Hawks.

Kate Allan is a student of the game. Raised in a hockey-obsessed home, she caught the bug at a young age.

There was just one problem. Allan, who grew up in Vancouver, British Columbia, is a Canucks devotee. On paper, and game night, the two are rivals.

They met nearly three years ago, at the start of a Blackhawks-Canucks playoff series, and Allan moved to Chicago about a year after that. All the while, they have managed to keep their dueling loyalties in check for the sake of their relationship.

The story came full circle Sunday when the Blackhawks and Canucks faced off in a regular-season game at the United Center, one day after Cappozzo proposed.

Allan had thought Cappozzo would do it at the game Sunday night and had insisted, "No Jumbotrons," so she said she was caught off-guard Saturday.

"I couldn't really believe it," Allan said before Sunday's game. "It was amazing. I said yes."

"We're almost newlyweds but we're enemies tonight."

The key, Cappozzo said, is keeping it in good fun.

"It doesn't have to make or break a home," said Cappozzo, a Comcast SportsNet cameraman who covers the Blackhawks.

They're planning for a September wedding in Vancouver and guarantee they'll include their beloved teams.

"Hopefully, the Canucks fans don't throw the Hawks stuff in the ocean," Cappozzo said.

Blackhawks fan Michael Cappozzo and Canucks fan Kate Allan fell in love after meeting during a Blackhawks-Canucks playoff series three years ago. Allan eventually moved to Chicago from Vancouver to be with Cappozzo. CHRIS SWEDA/TRIBUNE

VANCOUVER 6, BLACKHAWKS 2

In their first chance to exact some revenge on the team that knocked them from the playoffs in April, the Hawks fell flat Sunday and were manhandled in every phase during a 6-2 Canucks victory in front of a first-raucous, then stunned and ultimately bored United Center crowd of 21,883.

The Canucks belittled the Hawks on special teams, stopping the Hawks on all five of their opportunities with a man advantage.

"Their power play was the difference," said Hawks goaltender Corey Crawford, who finished with 32 saves but dropped to 6-3-2 on the season. "We haven't seen that from a team yet."

"They held onto it for almost two minutes [each time] and then it felt like they kept getting goals right at the end of it. I just couldn't come up with a key save."

THE DIGIT

Vancouver scored five power-play goals against the Blackhawks

on Sunday night—that's also the number of goals the Hawks have scored on the power play all season.

FEAR THE OFFICE LUNCH

Chicago Tribune

The office lunch—which 62 percent of us eat at our desks, according to the 2011 Desktop Dining survey from the American Dietetic Association and ConAgra Foods—can deal a caloric wallop if you're not careful.

And though the survey shows that most office workers make the healthful choice of bringing lunch from home, giving them control over ingredients, for the 41 percent of us who buy lunch out or eat takeout at our desks, popular meals can pack a heavy punch.

Take a look at the top lunch foods ordered at restaurants and taken back to the office to eat, according to market research firm NPD Group. We give examples of each from popular restaurants, then used the calculator at everydayhealth.com/calorie-counter.aspx to determine what you'd have to do to burn them off. The calculations are based on a 150-pound person. People who weigh less would have to exercise longer to burn the same number of calories.

ROMANCE PLANET

BY JENNIFER SHEPHERD | READ MORE AT LIPSTICKMYSTIC.COM

Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 21

With the sun in your sign, you're feeling less picky and more forgiving. So what if your special lady hooked up with her ex-boyfriend one night while you were out of town? Who cares if your guy has been spending time with strippers?

Taurus April 20-May 20

You could get lucky this week in ways you might not expect. Your wife will finally decide that having sex three times a week is perfectly reasonable. With Jupiter's help, things are looking up.

Gemini May 21-June 21

Someone pushy might try to seduce you this week as Mars creates some unexpected sexual melodrama. Perhaps a clueless acquaintance with poor hygiene has decided you're the one for him or her. Ew.

Cancer June 22-July 22

A bouncy sun is giving you more confidence in the bedroom. You'll decide to expand your repertoire beyond your usual one or two lovemaking positions.

Leo July 23-Aug. 22

You're enjoying a lot of sexy chitchat as Venus increases your need to confess your secret lusty fantasies. You'll send graphic text messages describing things you want to do to your honey.

Virgo Aug. 23-Sept. 22

A friendly sun has you reconsidering your romantic options. Why remain with someone boring and stable just because you're afraid of dating again? The sun is urging you to seek greener pastures. Be more confident about your prospects on the open market.

Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23

You could decide that you're too sexy for your relationship as a moon opposition gives you a major ego attack. But is your boyfriend really to blame for the fact that you're feeling grumpy about your career?

Pisces Feb. 19-March 20

You could encounter someone who has extremely strong opinions and isn't afraid to express them. The moon is kicking up some intellectual sparks between you and a certain someone. Can mental chemistry turn into something more physical? Stay tuned.

Aries March 21-April 19

You won't be able to hold back any longer, thanks to Mercury. You want to bed that certain someone, and you're not willing to wait.

"After 2 weeks, my blood sugar went from 180 to 112 and stayed there!"

Heart Surgeon Hails "Antioxidant" Diabetic Drink as 'A Miracle'!

Naturally improves blood sugar, cholesterol, circulation, energy and more in as little as 2 weeks!

What part of your diabetes would you like to see 'go away'? Are you plagued by weight gain and food cravings, high and low blood sugar levels, mood swings, low energy and constant fatigue, poor circulation, vision problems, frequent pain or aggravating bouts of brain fog or memory lapses?

There is good news and it comes in the form of a 'fizzy', drink called OPC Factor™, which quickly revitalizes your entire body and mind!

Better Blood Sugar

The 'miracle' equals a powerful blend of all natural super antioxidants called oligomeric proanthocyanadins, or OPCs, including powerhouses like grape seed, green tea, pine bark, and red wine extracts, along with lemon bioflavonoids, resveratrol, and 23 naturally occurring vitamins and enzymes.

Heart surgeon and Medical Director of the Heart, Diabetes, and Weight Loss Centers of New York, Dr. Fred Vagnini, MD, FACS confirms that "Antioxidant therapy may slow down the progress of pre-Diabetes." "OPC Factor™ has helped lower my glucose levels. I sleep better and have more energy and better circulation," says Charles Leavitt.

"Excess sugar in your blood causes oxidation and inflammation which is a contributing factor to slow sticky blood. Additionally, cellular damage leads to eye, kidney, nerve, heart, and blood vessel damage. OPC Factor™ greatly improves blood circulation which promotes faster blood flow; crucial for diabetics," states Dr. Vagnini.

No More Horse Pills to Swallow!

"Pills and tablets have absorption rates as low as 2 to 20 percent," says Dr. Vagnini. OPC Factor™ is the first 100% organic formula powered by a revolutionary, high-speed isotonic 'liquid' delivery system.

Results in Minutes!

Actual blood scans taken twenty minutes apart show how OPC Factor™ virtually flushes away free radicals, excess cholesterol crystals and sugar molecules in the bloodstream.

OPC Factor™ works 20-50 times better than traditional antioxidants against oxidation. OPCs enhance insulin's ability to lower blood sugar.

Unhealthy Blood Before

Healthy Blood After

Washes away blood sludge by eliminating toxins, free radicals, and even parasites!

National Health Institute Proves It!

"I can feel it when I drink it. It gives a lot of energy," says Ken Murdock.

A National Institute of Health funded "Double Blind" clinical study published in July, 2008, supports customer claims about energy. For diabetics, energy equals better sleep, moods, and overall balance.

Studies have found that free radicals produce oxidation that disrupts insulin sensitivity.

Receive 1 Month Free!

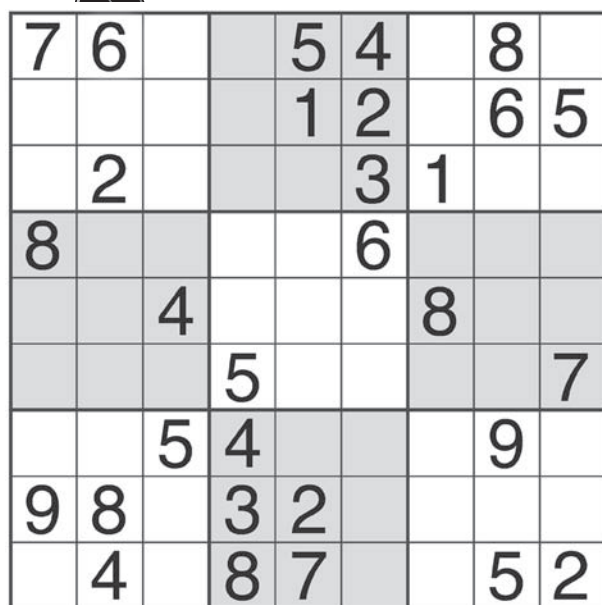

Try OPC Factor™ at no risk to you today and receive an absolutely free 30-Day Bonus supply along with a free book, The Aging Antidote. OPC antioxidants are clinically proven to boost your energy, and help restore youthful circulation, cholesterol and blood sugar levels. OPC Factor™ is backed by an iron-clad 6-month total satisfaction guarantee so you can experience the short term and long term results risk free!

TOP CELEB HANGOUTS: OCTOBER

BUNNY TALES

'Playboy Club' cast embraced Chicago scene

ABOUT LAST NIGHT

Luis Gomez

» lgomez@tribune.com
» @aboutluisgomez

If you were disappointed by the cancellation of the Chicago-based "Playboy Club" in early October, you're not alone. The NBC drama's cast—including Amber Heard, Jenna Dewan-Tatum, Naturi Naughton and David Krumholtz—had become regulars at Chicago's trendiest spots and developed friendships with club and restaurant owners around the city.

"We hung out almost every weekend before the show got canceled," said Billy Dec, CEO of Rockit Ranch Productions, which owns Sunda, The Underground, Rockit Bar & Grill and Rockit Wrigleyville. "We always ended up at Underground where they would take over my table and request old school hip-hop and dance. ... It was obvious that they were all so excited to be in Chicago. Sometimes actors come in all Hollywood and look past Chicago. They treated being out and about in Chicago as an honor."

The cast watched the series premiere together at a private party in Paris Club's upstairs lounge, Studio Paris, and danced afterward as a live band played. The celebration continued later that month when Naughton joined co-star Leah Renee for her birthday at Rockit Bar & Grill. NBC pulled the plug on the show soon after and Heard, Dewan-Tatum, Krumholtz and co-star Wes Ramsey found themselves having a goodbye dinner at Sunda.

Where did the cast's favorite spots rank among Chicago's top celebrity hangouts last month? Here's the October edition of the About Last Night rankings.

“I know that I’m going to be a target, but I’m never going to be a victim.”

—Justin Bieber on Friday’s episode of “Today,” denying allegations in a lawsuit that he is the father of a 3-month-old baby.

THE DIGIT

$33 MILLION

That’s how much “Puss in Boots” walked away from the domestic box office with over the weekend, according to studio estimates, to keep the No. 1 spot. “Tower Heist” was second with $25.1 million.

HOME, SWEET HOME

Talk about swanky! Jennifer Aniston reportedly has dropped about $9 million on a posh, three-bedroom pad overlooking Gramercy Park in New York, according to The Hollywood Reporter. Included in the deal: housekeeping, valet, room service and—last but not least—butter service. Yeah, that sounds about right up her alley.

Lohan on the loose

Lindsay Lohan has a couple of days before she goes to the clink, so she might as well take in a party, right? The actress was seen crashing a party at the Roosevelt Hotel in Hollywood for Leonardo DiCaprio and Clint Eastwood’s new movie, “J. Edgar,” nypost.com reports. Maybe Leo just wanted a Playboy bunny at the event?

They said, she said

“Saturday Night Live” didn’t waste the opportunity to skewer Kim Kardashian’s divorce over the weekend. A sketch featured Kristen Wiig as Kim’s mom, Kris Jenner, deadpanning that Kardashian didn’t get married for money, “she also got married for attention.” The real Kim Kardashian, meanwhile, wrote on her blog: “First and foremost, I married for love. I can’t believe I even have to defend this.”

Timing is everything

Shocking? Not exactly. Fox admitted to lip syncing on “X Factor” after contestant LeRoy Bell was heard singing on Thursday’s episode before he got the microphone to his mouth, thewrap.com reports. The network added that contestants do no lip sync on performances that are judged.
